Requested Fees and Expenses
$ Please note that there are no guarantees that all fees and/or expenses can be provided unless contractually agreed upon by both parties. Since our objective is to keep costs reasonable to ensure that parents and professionals without education budgets can attend and the goal of the conference fees is to just cover costs, it is possible that a speaker will not be selected based on required fees and expenses. This is particularly true for speakers that are not Keynote speakers. It is acceptable to request a vendor both as all or part of fees requested.
Please insert or attach to the e-mail a high resolution, print-ready (300dpi or higher) professional picture for you and any co-presenters. These will be used on our website, print media, and any digital media advertising the conference.

I Agree

Submission of your application does not constitute nor guarantee approval to speak at our conference. Applications will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis by the conference planning committee for pre-approval. Accepted applicants will be contacted by the Event Coordinator or a designated representative to discuss and resolve any additional considerations before confirmation. Converge Autism Summit strives to be inclusive and provide equal opportunity for speakers regardless of age, race, ethnicity, religion, culture, language, disability, socioeconomic status, sex, sexual orientation, and gender or expression. The committee reserves the right to determine the eligibility of any speaker or topic for inclusion in the summit and reserves the right to reject or prohibit any presentation in whole or in part, or a presenter, or their representatives, with or without giving cause.

By checking below, you agree that you understand submission of this application does not constitute approval or guarantee to speak at the Converge Autism Summit.

I Agree

The potential for conflicts of interest exists when an individual has the ability to control or influence the content of an educational activity and has a financial relationship with a commercial interest, the products or services of which are pertinent to the content of the educational activity. Approved applicants will be required to declare any conflict of interest. It is acceptable to mention a product or service that the speaker provides for a fee. However, details of the product or services or fees associated with it should not be part of the presentation. Sales presentations during presentations are not acceptable. An unmanned table is provided for speakers to leave their sales information or use to sell/autograph books.

By checking below you agree to declare any commercial conflict of interest associated with your presentation. You declare that your presentation itself is strictly educational and not a sales presentation.
